MEETINGS ARE THE SECOND & FOURTH THURSDAY OF EACH MONTH
St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Vick Park B and East Ave.

TO JOIN OR NOT TO JOIN? - WHAT IS YOUR EXCUSE?

I have been an RPA member for four years and have enjoyed every minute of it! Every time I meet a fellow collector and non member, I mention the RPA. I usually get the response, "not enough time, or meeting place is too far from home" and many other various excuses for not joining.

What are the reasons for our own RPA members who live in town, not coming to any meetings?

Do they know what they are missing? I seriously doubt it! I am fortunate in that I was warmly befriended from the first meeting as are all new members. I made many new friends. I even renewed a 30+ year friendship!!! Tim King, one of our newer members and I went through grammar and high school together as friends. We have renewed that friendship. Yes, philately brought two old friends back together!!!

Whats the point? Come to RPA meetings, invite your friends and see what you are missing. You will make new friends, learn more about various aspects of stamp collecting, find some good items in our silent auction, and generally have a good time!

Who knows, maybe you will be lucky enough to renew an old friendship too?

You will never know unless you come and see for yourself!!

L.Kelly Armstrong Jr.

QUITE PLEASE!

Dear Members,

It seems that a number of our members want to be speakers. However, they don't wish to get up in front of the group and talk, but instead just talk to their neighbor. This in itself isn't bad, it's their timing. These individuals insist on talking during the general meeting and the program.

So far this year I have missed only two meetings. To one degree or another this has happened at every one.

Now I ask a favor. If you have something we'd all like to hear, rise up and tell us your thoughts. However, if your comments or conversation is for your neighbors' ears alone, wait until the meeting is over, or go outside.

Yours truly,

name withheld by request

STAMP FACTS

The only stamp ever issued by a postal administration for a rocket post was the 10 centavos produced by Cuba on Oct.15, 1939 overprinted EXPERIMENTO DEL COHETE POSTAL AÑO DE 1939. Stamps and miniature sheets were issued in 1964 to commemorate the 25th anniversary of this rocket flight.

HOW TO ORDER FIRST DAY COVERS

There are two ways to order first day covers:

1. Buy the stamp (or postal stationery item) at your local post office, affix it to an addressed envelope (postage must make up the first-class rate) and send under cover to Customer-Affixed Envelopes, Postmaster, (Name of City, State and ZIP Code-9991). No remittance.
2. The USPS will affix the stamp to submitted addressed envelopes or will provide the postal stationery upon receipt and receipt of remittance to cover cost of items.

Send requests to (Name of Issue), Postmaster, (Name of City, State and ZIP Code-9992).

The deadline for submitting envelopes for first-day cancellation is usually 30 days after the date of issue.

Mail orders for mint stamps, plate number, Mr. ZIP and Copyright blocks, full panes and postal stationery items should be sent to Philatelic Sales Division, Box 449997, Kansas City, Mo. 64144-9997.

The PSD imposes a $10 minimum and 50¢ service charge on all mail orders.

A Philatelic Sales Catalog is available free upon request from the PSD at the aforementioned address.

Full details of each issue listed in this program are given in news stories in Linn's. Reference to the date and page of such stories is given at the end of each entry.

Tentative Scott and United Postal Stationery Society catalog numbers are reported as received.

Plate numbers. All sheet stamps have corner plate numbers, requiring a block of four unless otherwise stated. Coil numbers should be collected in the center of strips of three or five stamps.

If you collect U.S. new issues, you should own Linn's U.S. Stamp Yearbooks.

The 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988 and 1989 Yearbooks are available individually at $18 per softcover copy. Order all seven softcover volumes for $90. Send order and remittance to Linn's U.S. Stamp Yearbook, Box 29, Sidney, Ohio 45365. Ohio residents please add 6 percent sales tax.

Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY

Postal Service profits from stamp issues

Dear Abby: In responding to your reader, "Flooded in Florida," you indicated that taxpayers pay for the price of "fancy changes" in postage stamps. The U.S. Postal Service has been functioning for two decades as a government corporation with a mandate to break even and with no appropriations from the U.S. Treasury. Consumers pay directly for the service they receive through stamp sales — not tax dollars.

The cost of new stamp designs is justified philatelically as stamp collectors buy new issues and never ask for the service for which they paid. This revenue source, highly dependent on "fancy" issues, provided $150 million last year, which saved the mail user from paying that part of our operating expense.

Furthermore, our American cultural excellence and artistic diversity are reflected in stamp designs that promote our heritage. Each year, we receive more than 20,000 stamp proposals, a direct indication of the high level of interest that the mailing public takes in its stamp program.

Just as with any American corporation, postal costs of doing business do increase in our inflationary economy. The proposed rate increase is necessary to cover our operating costs while maintaining the service our customers want and have every right to expect.

— Gordon C. Morison,
assistant postmaster general

Dear Mr. Morison: Thank you for setting me straight. You may be pleased to learn that the U.S. Postal Service profited handsomely from my off-the-wall response to "Flooded in Florida." It generated several thousand letters. Read on:

Dear Abby: With reference to "tooling" for new postage stamps, our China-Burma-India Veterans Association, representing some 300,000 men who served in World War II, has lobbied for years to get a stamp with a picture of Gen. Claire Chennault, commander of the Flying Tigers. We finally succeeded, so now, after 45 years, such a stamp will be issued in September. A 40-cent stamp!

Now you ask, "How could the government expect to come out financially on a postage stamp of that denomination?" Well, I would estimate they will sell at least 5 million stamps the first month!

Stamp collectors will grab them, and most of those stamps will never be used as postage, thus making an enormous profit for the postal system.

— Denver Stamp Collector

Dear Abby: Please be informed that when the Postal Service prints commemorative postage stamps, it makes millions of dollars. Collectors from all over the world buy them.

These stamps are seldom used and the post office does not have to provide any service (which is what you are supposed to be paying 25 cents for).

— Robert C. Loper, Houston

Do you have a question? Write to Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

From the July 23, 1990 Times Union
Gordon Morison, RPA Life Member #34 was the creator of the first Champion of Champions Show which was held here in Rochester.

Cover: A cover is an entire envelope that has passed through the mailstream. It bears some evidence of postal payment and carries appropriate postal markings.

A philatelic cover is one that was created with a philatelic purpose in mind. It may or may not have gone through the mailstream. On the philatelic cover shown, a collector affixed the entire set of eleven 1937 Newfoundland definitives, greatly overpaying needed postage.

The design of the 25c Dwight D. Eisenhower stamp, which will be released Oct. 13 in Abilene, Kan. Oct. 13 is the 100th anniversary of Eisenhower's birth.

Figure 7. Ann M. Triggie of Buffalo, N.Y., has given much to the hobby of stamp collecting.

hibit chairman and speaker. She is also active in regional and national groups.

Ann's mission is to encourage those who are beginning to get involved. She says of the future of our hobby:

"I believe it is bright. There are increasing numbers of people brought up on the steady diet of TV who want to find a more stimulating pursuit — these should be encouraged and welcomed in our ranks.

"Postal history of all vintages and thematic collections are the keys for those with desire but with little capital. We must be very careful and not scare away potential hobbyists with too heavy a dose of our more esoteric material in their first initial contacts."

Ann Triggie

This month, we honor Ann M. Triggie of Buffalo, N.Y., as our unsung contributor to the strength of stamp collecting in the United States. Triggie is shown in Figure 7.

Ann began collecting worldwide stamps as a child in Wales, but with an emphasis on British Commonwealth.

As with many of us, the collecting urge went into hibernation during the early years of marriage, which included
